

The Genres Project: 2018-2019

As part of your required reading this year, you will read and complete three projects based on books of different genres. If you pay attention to the schedule below, and do your nightly 30 minutes of reading, these assignments will be a piece of cake!

You will have a project due in October, January and March. For the months that you don't have a project due, you'll still be reading nightly for homework and working toward completing the 40 Book Challenge! 😊

All assignment directions and report papers are available in the classroom beginning in August, and the due dates will be written in your homework planner and on the chart below. Happy reading!
